'Give back to Caesar what belongs to Caesar and to God what belongs to God.' These are such challenging words from Jesus to those who are trying to entrap him. For us as believers, everything belongs to God. We hold that God is the source of life, of love, of all that is. We see the majesty of God in the wonder of Creation, from the minutest of particles to the largest of stars, light-years away. We reflect on the timeless nature of God to whom seconds, minutes and days are insignificant because God has the ability to cross time and space. As followers of Jesus Christ, we try to fathom what it means for the Son of God to be revealed in human form bound by time and space. The more we ponder this mystery, the more mind-blowing is the result!

At the moment our minds and hearts are caught up with the suffering peoples of the Holy Land. There does not seem to an obvious answer to the tragedy or a magic wand to make trauma disappear. Our prayers are offered with all our might. Our resolve to be people of peace and justice in our own lives is a sign of trust in God. Our decision never to give up on our yearning for reconciliation is crucial. In our Second Reading as we embark on St. Paul's First Letter to the Thessalonians, the Apostle uses some pertinent language: 'wishing you grace and peace', 'we always mention you in our prayers', 'you have shown your faith in action, worked for love and persevered through hope in our Lord Jesus Christ.' This Epistle is one of the ancient texts of the New Testament and highlights St. Paul's love of this community which he founded and his desire for them to practise the quality of loving which radiates Christ. Let this be our aspiration in the coming days!

May God watch over you and our world with grace beyond measure. With love and prayers, Fr. Norbert
